Fundraising Weekend Sets Several Bests

The Parker Youth and Sports Foundation's annual fundraising weekend of events has always been a success, and this year's seventh was no exception. In fact, several components of the weekend set records.

The Friday night Sports Legends Reunion master of ceremonies, Dave Ettl, local radio personality and Yakima City Councilman, guided the evening. The program featured the introduction of High Hopes Golf Tournament Honorary Chairman Tom Parry and Honored Guest Betty Yaden. R.L. Heaverlo, local auctioneer, conducted the live auction, featuring stays at four vacation locations, tickets to musicals, a fishing trip, and baseball memorabilia (balls signed by Yogi Berra, Whitey Ford, Bob Gibson, Mel Stottlemyre, Derek Jeter and Mariano Rivera) provided by Stottlemyre. Former YVC baseball pitcher Phil Hinrichs and several others of the 100 attendees created spirited bidding stimulating the live auction. After the smoke settled, the Yogi Berra-autographed ball brought a record price of $3,500, most paid for an item at any Sports Legends Reunion event.

Congratulations to Steve and Kathy Noble, Abbott's Printing Inc., selected as the foundation's Contributor of the Year. They have owned Abbott's Printing since 1995.

The company has sponsored a team in the High Hopes Scramble for the past four years – when unable to field a team, they sponsored a high school team. This year they also sponsored half of the entry fee for the West Valley High School golf team.

Abbott's Printing has been the primary source for the foundations printed materials. The company motto is "whatever it takes, we will get the job done".

Letter from the President

Hello Parker Partners and Friends:

This will be a short column as we have far too many newsworthy items to share in this issue that are “stand alone” topics. However, as we close the books on the 2011-12 fiscal year I would be quite remiss for not acknowledging our Legends Reunion and Golf Tournament Committees for conducting the most successful fundraising event in the foundation’s history. Since early March the golf committee has met on virtually a weekly basis to insure our ‘signature’ event was first class from start to finish. Not only was the financial bottom line a record, the Reunion and the golf tournament created a “team” atmosphere that was enjoyed by all. A big shout out to committee members Eric Carlson, Spud Edmondson, Virginia Hays and Sam Karr. Special thanks to Reunion master of ceremonies Dave Ettl and auctioneer par-excellance, R. L. Heaverlo. A special thank you to honorary tournament chairman Tom Parry and to our honored guest, Betty Yaden, both sports legends here in the Valley.

Joe Mann and Jerry with Mel's autographed baseballs.

The live auction at this year's Sports Legends Reunion was quite successful, due in no small part from the sale of autographed baseballs Mel Stottlemire provided the Foundation. Mel was able to donate signed baseballs by such major league legends as Yogi Berra, Bob Gibson, and Derrick Jeter. Mel also autographed a dozen balls for Joe and Kathy Mann, owners of Ron's Coin & Collectibles. Joe and Kathy do not sell the balls autographed by Mel; they instead donate them to charitable organizations as an auction item. Thanks again Mel.

This issue of High Hopes represents our annual fund drive for the Faller-Brayton Endowment. The F/B endowment has reached $168,000 and generated over $4,000 this past year with these funds donated to YVCC baseball and the Yakima Grid Kids program.

I hope you will consider our invitation to attend the foundation's annual meeting on October 11 with our social hour beginning at 11 a.m. and the meeting at noon in the seventh-floor conference room of the Larson Building.

In conclusion, I want to thank everyone who has been so supportive of my efforts to serve as president the past two years. It has been a true pleasure to represent the PY&SF, but come October it will be time for me to start catching up on a few endeavors that need to be addressed while I still have a few of my marbles in the bag. However, I do intend to stay involved with the foundation's historical collections and archiving and contributing a few stories to High Hopes. Between now and the annual meeting in October I encourage our Parker Partners to consider becoming more involved with the foundation as either a board member or an officer. For you retired folks, keep in mind the Larson Building and downtown Yakima is just a great place to ‘hang out’!

Yours in sports, Jerry Ward, “Out Going” President

From the Office

Fundraiser: The office personnel have recovered from the June 8 and 9 fundraiser. We can't thank everyone enough for the support preparing for the two events. Be sure to read the front page article and the inside stories if you were unable to attend.

Parker Partner Invoices: Parker Partner renewal invoices will be mailed later in October. We hope you will consider renewing your membership and encouraging a couple of others to join our mission.

Office Located in Room 1009: Check out the new office in the A.E. Larson Building. The board of directors will be discussing the possibility of an open house.

Foundation Budget from 2011-2012: Below is an accounting of the foundation's income and expenses. As in all financial reports from the office, they are not audited but are provided to give you an idea of the organization's financial status.

Paige Albrecht Selected as the Joe Donahue Scholarship Recipient

Paige Albrecht was selected from among two outstanding finalists for the 2012-13 Joe Donahue Memorial Scholarship. She is a 2012 West Valley High School graduate who played basketball three years and has exceptional leadership skills. She also has had web design experience as well as Photo Shop experience.

Martinez Selected, Donahue Remembered for Grid Kids

The Faller-Brayton endowment continues to grow, and with this growth the foundation is able to expand on providing assistance to youth programs in the Valley.

Funds from the endowment provide for a baseball scholarship each year in recognition of former YVCC baseball coaches, Bobo Brayton and Bill Faller. The recipient of this coming year's Coaches Award is Reid Martinez, a sophomore outfielder. Reid, a 2011 graduate of Seattle's Roosevelt High School, played outfield for the college this spring. He bats and throws left-handed.

On August 6, the foundation presented the Yakima Grid Kids a check for $1,029 from funds generated by the endowment and in memory of Joe Donahue. Joe passed away in January of this year. He was instrumental in founding the Grid Kids and was a charter foundation board member.

Crosier Court to be Dedicated

The Yakima Valley Community College Board of Trustees has officially named the basketball court at Sherar Gymnasium in honor of long time basketball coach and psychology instructor at the college, Ellwood Crosier.

The dedication ceremony will take place at 3:30 PM on Thursday, September 13, at Sherar Gymnasium. Coach Crosier was a member of the first Parker Youth & Sports Foundation Board of Directors in 2005 and has been an active Parker Partner ever since, serving on our grants committee. We are pleased to make this announcement and will do a follow-up Crosier story in the winter edition of High Hopes. We hope to see you at the dedication ceremony on September 13. We have been told the ceremony will take about a half hour with plenty of time for old friends and former players and faculty members of YVCC to visit after the dedication of the floor.

YVCC Commencement Very Special for Foundation

On June 7 at the Yakima Valley Community College commencement ceremony, Mel Stottlemyre was the featured speaker and Sherrie and Daryl Parker were in attendance to be recognized by the college for their creation of a new faculty award. With the graduation exercises taking place on Parker Field, one could not escape the symbolic parallel between Mel's address to the class of 2012 and the mission of the Parker Youth & Sports Foundation. High Hopes, our foundation's signature logo as painted by Don Crook (Parker Partner and Yakima Junior College alumnus) conveys a theme of "pursuing your dreams," and this challenge was presented by Mel to the graduating students.

Yakima Valley Community College is known for the outstanding celebration it conducts in honoring its graduating class at the end of each school year. With the class, faculty and members of the dais seated on the infield portion of Parker Field, every seat in the 3,500 grandstand section of the stadium is filled with supportive parents, grandparents, relatives, friends and children of the graduating students; a setting that is nothing short of magnificent. College staff organizes a ceremony that is dignified to the occasion with a guest (Mel) and student speakers, special award presentations and recognition of retiring staff. This year was special as Herb Blisard, instructor for 50 years at the college, was recognized for his long and distinguished service. Of course, the purpose of the two-hour program is to present degrees and certificates to the honored students, and this is quite the highlight of the evening. Each graduate is individually introduced, and to receive their diploma takes the walk from the third base side of the baseball diamond directly across to home plate where they receive their diploma from Dr. Kaminski (college president and a Parker Partner) exiting to the first base side where their teachers are sitting, giving the traditional thumbs up to their students. Talk about a moment in the sun...it's like crossing home plate after hitting the walk-off game winner! Nothing in education equals the smiles of graduating students.

Mel's speech was a straightforward, down home stroll along baseball memory lane from Mabton, Washington, to New York City and Seattle, with interesting stops in between, such as Harlan, Kentucky. His challenge to the graduates was simple and direct:

"Chase your dreams, because if you don't, you will never know what might have been." (Take a look at the High Hopes print as to chasing dreams at Parker Field.) Anyone having attended a baseball game at Parker Field could not help but notice the position of the podium from which Mel delivered his address, which was in front of the pitcher's mound with the graduating class in front of him near home plate. His speech was one good fast ball after another...with an occasional slider, Mel's favorite pitch way back when! According to YVCC Hall of Fame baseball Coach Bill Faller, who was in attendance, the speech was a complete game with no need to call the bull pen for 'relief.'

Dodie Forest, Sherrie & Daryl Parker at YVCC commencement.

The "new" Sherrie and Daryl Parker Faculty Award honors a full-time faculty member who has shown extraordinary interactions and personal influence with students and by these actions has motivated them toward greater academic and personal achievement. The first recipient of this award was Ms. Dodie

Dodie Forest

Forest, an English instructor in the Arts and Sciences Division. The award is a $2,500 unrestricted monetary award.

From a Valley historical perspective, the 2012 YVCC commencement ceremonies at Parker Field, with the Parker family, Mel Stottlemyre, excited students receiving their degrees...well; it just doesn't get much better than that for a member of the Parker Youth & Sports Foundation! Memories were shared and very special new memories were created. Congrats to YVCC for another outstanding commencement ceremony to honor this year's graduates. Well done.

Coach Purdom Remembered

There are very few sports enthusiasts in the Yakima Valley who do not remember Wayne Purdom. A 1960's graduate of West Valley High School, Coach Purdom went on to Yakima Valley College and Montana State University as a football and wrestling star. He started his teaching and coaching career at YVC in 1968 and remained in the Valley his entire life, right up until the time of his death in March of 2009. Wayne's wife of 44 years, Biz, passed away one month later in April of 2009.

Wayne coached at East Valley, Grandview, and Selah high schools, touching the lives of an untold number of young people.

Coach Purdom's sister-in-law, Jean McDonald Pinski, has written and published a tribute to Wayne and Biz Purdom in her book "Coach." The booklet is a 120-page story down the Purdom family memory lane, and the trials that Wayne and Biz experienced those last few years as they both battled cancer.

The foundation office has copies of "Coach" for those wishing to read it. Also, further information can be obtained by checking out Ms. Pinski's website www.jeanpincki.com or contacting the foundation's office to purchase or check out a copy of the book.

The Loss of a True Friend

The Foundation lost one of its very first supporters and advocate with the passing of Mel Lewis on April 5 of this year. Back in June of 2005, the ink was barely dry on the announcement about the start of the Parker Youth & Sports Foundation going public that a generous donation was received from Mel. He has been an Honorary Director and Parker Partner ever since. Mel assisted the Foundation at the start in addressing those details which involve the necessary insurance for our organization and Board members.

A long time member, and past President of the Yakima Monday Morning Quarterback Club, Mel's roots ran deep in the Valley. He was a football and baseball standout at both Yakima Junior College and Central Washington University in the 1950's and was a very successful businessman as President of the Terrill, Lewis and Wilke Insurance Company from 1969 until his retirement in 2000.

The Foundation continues to receive the support of Terrill, Lewis, and Wilke and particular our association with Mel's son, Rod. On a sports note of interest, we pass on our 'envious' congratulations to Rod for his being included in a round of golf with Tiger Woods.

Rod Lewis, Brian Church, Tiger Wood and Danny Dugan at the 2012 Memorial Pro-Am.

TERRIL, LEWIS & WILKE INSURANCE, INC.

In honor of Mel Lewis, we are proud to salute the following heroes of the valley who supported youth and youth activities all their life.

PARKER YOUTH & SPORTS FOUNDATION

FALLER/ BRAYTON ENDOWMENT

“Join the Boys of Summer to keep the games going for Yakima youth.”

In just five years the Parker Youth & Sports Foundation has seen the Faller/Brayton Endowment grow to over $168,000 with two distributions back to the Foundation in 2010-12 of over $6,000. The endowment is growing day by day, thanks to the generous donations of our Parker Partners and Friends. We ask that you join us in our annual fund drive to enhance the Faller/Brayton Endowment. The objectives of the Endowment mirror the basic mission of the PY&SF.

Faller/Brayton Endowment Directives:

1. To provide a Northwest Athletic Association of Community College scholarship (the Coaches Award) for a returning (sophomore) baseball player at YVCC.
2. To contribute to the preservation and/or improvement of Parker Field.
3. To provide participation scholarships for young athletes desiring to play on local youth teams.
4. To provide assistance in the development or improvement of existing sports fields or facilities in the greater Yakima area.
5. To support other charitable objectives that fall within the mission of the Parker Youth & Sports Foundation.
6. To provide assistance in the development or improvement of existing sports fields or facilities in the greater Yakima area.
7. To support other charitable objectives that fall within the mission of the Parker Youth & Sports Foundation.
